

NOTIFICATION AND SUMMARIZATION OF E-MAIL MESSAGES HELD IN SPAM QUARANTINE

Abstract of The Disclosure

"False positives" of valid E-mail messages are avoided according to a method which creates a numeric score that represents the probability that the message in question is valid, and then quarantines the message in an area separate from the intended message recipient user's primary in-box for scheduled notification to the user of the presence of possible valid messages for selection.
